38. In the National Waterway (Allahabad-Haldia Stretch of the Ganga-Bhagirathi-Hooghly River) Act, 1982,—

Amendment of Act 49 of 1982.

(b) sections 4 to 15 shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Several committees set up by the Government of India have recommended declaration of important navigable waterways as national waterways and acceleration of their development for promotion of inland water transport in view of its low cost and for securing certain other advantages such as energy efficiency, generation of employment among weaker sections of community and less pollution.

2. The National Transportation Policy Committee has observed that the existing set up of Inland Water Transport Directorate in the Ministry of Shipping and Transport is not geared to undertake and discharge the responsibility for proper development of National Waterways as this is merely an advisory body without any powers to allocate funds for development schemes and their execution. To overcome this difficulty the committee recommended setting up of an independent authority for the development, maintenance and regulation of National Waterways. It is, therefore, proposed to set up an Inland Waterways Authority of India which would be an independent authority for the development, maintenance and regulation of National Waterways for shipping and navigation and also to organise studies and investigation on waterways under consideration for declaration as national waterways.

3. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Clause 3(1) of the Bill provides for the constitution of the Inland Waterways Authority of India. Clause 4 of the Bill provides for the term of office and other conditions of service of the members of the Authority. Clause 8 of the Bill provides for the Secretary and other officers of the Authority. Clause 9 of the Bill provides for the constitution of advisory committee for assisting the Authority. Clause 14(1) and (2) of the Bill seeks to entrust the responsibility to regulate and develop the national waterways for the purposes of shipping and navigation to the Inland Waterways Authority of India under the Central Government. Consequently three distinct functions, namely, development, maintenance and regulation will devolve on the said Authority. The financial implications and indicated in the succeeding paragraphs.

2. Considering there is no organised and sustained inland water transport traffic at present on the waterways and bulk of the visualised traffic will be diverted traffic, only minimal infrastructural facilities are considered necessary. No elaborate mechanized handling facilities at the river terminals or sophisticated river markings are at present visualised. To start with, only floating landing facilities at almost all the contemplated river terminals, with minimum shore facilities like sheds, open storage facilities, road approach, water and electric supply are proposed to be provided. Locations for terminals in the national waterways have been identified. It is not possible to formulate an estimate of capital investment in the entire length of the national waterways. It is estimated that the expenditure with respect to the said minimal infrastructural facilities will be of the order of Rs. 35 crores. This expenditure will be of a non-recurring nature.

3. The order of annual recurring costs by way of development, maintenance and regulation of the waterways which has already been declared to be a national waterway (i.e. the Allahabad-Haldia stretch of the Ganga-Bhagirathi-Hooghly river) including the expenditure with respect to settlement of disputes under clause 14(3), the Advisory Committees set up under clause 19(1) and the expenditure on members and the staff under clause 4 and 8 and the contingencies of the Authority will initially approximate to about Rs. 3 crores. Additional expenditure would be involved when Parliament declared by law any other waterway to be a national waterway but it is not possible to make any estimate of the expenditure which would be involved as that would depend upon the circumstances (including the length and other features) with respect to such waterway. The provisions of the Bill do not involve any other expenditure of a recurring or non-recurring nature.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 16 of the Bill empowers the Inland Waterways Authority of India to fix rates for passenger fare and cargo freight on national waterways.

Clause 34 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to make rules to provide, among other matters, the term of office and other conditions of service of members of the Authority, powers and duties of the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, the constitution of the Advisory Committees, the form in which the Authority may prepare its budget and Annual Report and maintain its accounts and the manner of audit of accounts, the manner in which the Authority may invest its funds, and the conditions and restrictions with respect to the power to enter upon any land or premises.

Clause 35 of the Bill confers power upon the Authority to make, with the previous approval of the Central Government, regulations, inter alia, regulating the terms and conditions of service of the Secretary and other officers and employees of the Authority, the contracts or class of contracts which may be sealed with the common seal, the rule of the road on the national waterways, exclusion from the national waterways of disorderly and other undesired persons and trespassers.

The matters in respect of which rules and regulations may be made are generally matters of procedure and administrative detail and it is hardly practicable to provide for them in the Bill itself. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, normal in character.

SUBHASH C. KASHYAP,
Secretary-General.
